The 49-9 Project

Re-entry Program

The Salvation Army
NEOSA Division
I will say to the prisoners, ‘Come out in freedom,’ and to those in darkness, ‘Come into the light.’ They will be my sheep, grazing in green pastures and on hills that were previously bare.
---Isaiah 49:9 NLT

Returning to the community from a period of confinement can be a daunting task. There are so many issues to be addressed: reconnecting with family, finding a place to live, securing employment just to name a few.

The Salvation Army is here to help through our 49-9 Project and this guide. You will need to find your own way as you work through your reentry, but we encourage you to use this guide and the resources listed to aid in a successful move back into the Columbiana County community.

----Tony Houshour The Salvation Army Regional Field Representative
----Mark Fahringer The Salvation Army 49-9 Project Administrator

Child Support Tips:

- The parent paying child support is called the NON-CUSTODIAL PARENT or OBLIGOR.
- The parent receiving child support is called the CUSTODIAL PARENT or OBLIGEE.
- A Support Order tells you how much child support must be paid each month. If you have to pay child support, you are still responsible for that amount the whole time you are in prison. In fact, the total amount you owe keeps increasing unless payments are being made on your case.
- If you are incarcerated, check with your worker. You may be eligible for a modification of your order.
- Notify the Support Enforcement Agency anytime your address, phone number or employment changes.
- If you are the one that is owed child support, contact the Support Enforcement Agency to see what you can do to start collecting again once you are released.
- Do not make payments directly to the custodial parent. That will not count. You will still owe that money.
- Pay the amount you owe each month. If you are having trouble paying this amount, contact the Support Enforcement Agency right away. You might be able to get your payment changed through a Support Order Modification if you qualify.
- If you are more than one month behind in child support, your driver’s license can be suspended before your incarceration or after your release. Your driver’s license will not be suspended while you are incarcerated. If, upon release, you find that it was, contact your worker right away.
- The agencies listed in this section may help with issues regarding child support.
- You could go back to prison for not paying child support.

Support Order Modification

In some cases, you may qualify to get your Support Order modified (changed) while you are in prison or right after you get out, so that the amount you have to pay each month is less. This process takes several months. Modification does not help with what you already owe. Your new payment amount would not start until the month after the entire modification review process is completed. Even with a new Support Order payment, you will still have to pay off the past due child support that you owe. Because the State of Ohio does not consider being in prison an automatic reason not to pay child support, you must qualify for modification under one of the following reasons:
• Three years have passed since the establishment of the Support Order or the last review process
• Loss of employment for 30 consecutive days or more
• Verified disability
• Incarceration beyond the child’s 18th birthday
• 30% change in gross income
• Children are 18 or older and no longer in high school
• To determine the availability of health insurance

Don’t worry too much about whether you qualify under these guidelines. Just contact the Support Enforcement Agency and explain your situation, such as a lack of a job, and they will let you know if you qualify. If you request a modification while you are still incarcerated, the new support payment will be based on the amount of your prison wages.

CLOTHING

If you do not have clothing sent to you by your family or friends, you will have to wear your prison clothing when you are released. Some prisons will allow people to send you clothing to wear upon release. Ask your institution if they will accept and keep a packet of clothing for you to wear when you are going home and what your family or friends will have to do to get the clothing to you.

If you do not have family or friends to help with clothing and you need clothing right after you are released, try the following:

Phone or go to the office closest to you. They may provide clothing or vouchers for you to get clothing from a Salvation Army Thrift Store. Bring your Release Papers or Prison ID if you have these.

Improving your reading and math skills may increase your chances of getting a job. If you did not finish high school, your first step is to work toward a GED. A GED is a certificate for people who did not finish high school and do not have a high school diploma. In order to get a GED, you will need to pass a GED test. There are programs that will help you improve your skills so that you can earn your GED.

The Adult Basic Literacy Education (ABLE) Program offers help for adults who want to improve their basic reading and math skills or prepare for the GED test. Some places offer English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL), social studies, science, employment skills, and citizenship preparation.

Ohio Literacy Network
800-228-7323 or www.ohioliteracynetwork.org

Provides the opportunity to study for the GED through either a computer-based program or television-broadcast. Practice tests for the GED are also offered.

Paying for School / Financial Aid

There are services that can help you pay for your education. Call the Financial Aid Office at the school where you would like to attend and ask about the different types of aid that may be available. If you are in an employment program, ask them for help with finding money to help pay for your education.

There is money offered through the federal government, state government and schools that may be available to you to help you pay for your education. If you are looking for help to pay for school, you should complete and submit a FAFSA - Free Application for Federal Student Aid. Under a new federal law, students who were convicted of drug crimes prior to their enrollment and application for federal financial aid, will no longer be subject to a delay or a denial of aid due to their conviction. As of July 1, 2006, the federal financial aid ban will only apply to students who are convicted of a drug offense while they are in school and receiving federal financial assistance.

EMPLOYMENT

1. Gather all documents that an employer would need to hire you.
Here are items you may need:
• Driver’s License or State ID
• Social Security Card
• Original or Certified Copy of your Birth Certificate • High School Diploma, College Diploma or GED
• Vocational Certificates
• Inmate educational record/transcript
• Résumé
• A list of three references (names and phone numbers of people who can comment about your work ability)

2. Clean up your criminal record and credit report.
Make sure wrong information gets fixed and see if you can have a past conviction or arrest expunged/sealed.

3. Understand your rights.
An employer cannot generally use your arrest record to deny you a job.

An employer may review your record of convictions and can consider the relationship between the conviction and the job in deciding whether to employ you. The employer has a lot of freedom when making this decision.

An employer may conduct a background check on you. If the employer conducts the background check himself, he does not need your permission to do it. However, if the employer asks a third-party to do it (like a security company), they need to let you know and get your written permission. If they use anything in that report to deny you a job, you have to be provided with a copy of the report and a period of time to dispute the entries.

There are laws in Ohio that prohibit people with certain convictions from working in some jobs. The types of jobs with legal prohibitions are generally in the areas of childcare, education, law enforcement, nursing and home health care – areas where there are “vulnerable” populations like children and older adults.

If you want a career where a professional license is required or helpful (such as a social worker), make sure you check with the agency that grants the license before you decide to go into that career. See if they will give a license to someone with your type of conviction. Many agencies do not have an outright ban on all ex-offenders.

There are no specific laws that protect ex-offenders from job discrimination simply because they are ex-offenders. But, there are laws that protect people from discrimination based on race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, disability and genetics. Sometimes, it gets hard to tell what caused the discrimination. If you think you were passed over for a job, or discriminated against in other ways that have to do with employment, you can file a Charge of Discrimination with the agency listed below. You can file a charge by telephone, in person or over the Internet. They will contact you after they receive it.

4. Learn about Fidelity Bonding.
If you were convicted of a crime such as theft, forgery, embezzlement or other “dishonest” act, there is a FREE federal fidelity bonding program that may help you get a job. The fidelity bond is a short-term insurance policy for the employer. It reimburses the employer should you steal anything. You can let employers who are thinking about hiring you know about this program. There are a few things you should know:

You have to have a job offer for permanent work of at least 30 hours per week to qualify.

Coverage is up to $5,000 for six months.

The employer should phone for information.

5. Learn about the Work Opportunity Tax Credit (WOTC).
WOTC is a tax credit for the employer. It is meant to encourage employers to hire ex-felons and other people who might have a hard time finding a job. The employer could get as much as a $2,400 tax break per worker. You can let employers who are thinking about hiring you know about this program. The employer just needs to complete two forms within a certain time period after the start-to-work date. Forms and directions are available from the agency listed below.

6. Work with an agency that has experience with ex-offenders:

7. For those age 55 or older, there is a program called the Senior Community Service Employment Program.
This helps low-income persons get part-time, on the job training. This does not focus on helping ex-offenders, but they may serve them. Contact the following agency for more information:

   Columbiana County Department of Job & Family Services

   Lisbon, Ohio 44432

Job seekers also may determine their eligibility by applying online through the Ohio Benefit Bank www.ohiobenefits.org

8. Try other programs that can help you get a job.

   Columbiana County One Stop
   7860 Lincole Place
   Lisbon, OH  44432
   33-420-9675

9. Consider temporary employment agencies.
These agencies place you in jobs at different companies for short periods of time. You are employed by the temporary agency, not the company. You may work at a company for one day, one week, or for many months. Temporary jobs can, but don’t usually, result in permanent employment. You are generally paid weekly.
It is a good idea to sign up with more than one temporary agency because each may have different job openings and pay rates. Make sure you understand exactly how much you will be paid, and what benefits are offered. Many temporary agencies do not offer health care or paid vacations. Always get information about your pay and benefits in writing and keep a copy.

For temporary agencies, you can look in the Yellow Pages under Employment Contractors - Temporary Help, or contact the Cleveland Better Business Bureau for listings.

   Mahoning Valley Better Business Bureau

10. Start your own business/entrepreneurial resources.
Starting your own business requires a business plan and money. Talk with one of the agencies listed below before you start up. They can provide free advice and guidance on self-employment.
SCORE (Service Corps of Retired Executives)
Provides counseling for starting or maintaining businesses. Referrals to local chapters.

11. Use libraries as resources.
Libraries usually have computers and access to the Internet available for free. They also have a good selection of books about careers and jobs. There are books that are written specifically for ex-offenders. Some of them may also have workshops on résumé writing and interviewing skills.

Food Assistance (Food Stamps)

The food assistance program is for those with very little income and assets. Instead of food coupons, Ohio issues the Ohio Direction Card. It works like a debit card. Each month, money is transferred to the card electronically for you to buy food.

- People who have committed a felony may still apply for food assistance.
- Single men and women may apply for food assistance. It is not necessary to have children in the household.
- For a single person with no children, you can make around $1,174 per month or $14,088 per year and still qualify.
- If you think you might be eligible, you should apply.
- The maximum a one person household may get is $200 a month.

If it looks like you might qualify, you will be asked to also apply for unemployment compensation when you apply for Food Assistance. You will still get Food Assistance right away, but your income will be budgeted.

It is very important that you have medical care. One way of getting care is to get health insurance. Most people get health insurance through their employer because it is very expensive to get on their own. People who are low income, are disabled, or are 65 or older, may be able to get government health insurance to pay for their health care. If you don’t have health insurance, try the following options.

Medicaid

Medicaid is health insurance paid for by the government. There are two types of Medicaid: Covered Families and Children (CFC) and Aged Blind and Disabled (ABD). CFC is for low-income families with children living in the home (in some cases may cover young adults age 18-21). ABD is for those who are age 65 or older and/or for those who are blind, or have a disability. You must prove that you have applied for or are receiving Social Security Disability income (SSD) to receive this coverage and there are income restrictions that may affect the way this coverage is provided. Certain health care providers have agreed to accept Medicaid Insurance. When you seek care, you should always ask the provider if they accept Medicaid.

Medicaid covers some prescription drugs, doctor visits, hospital care, laboratory and x-rays, medical equipment and supplies, some dental care, mental health (including some prescription medication), vision, alcohol and drug rehabilitation and other services. Some services will have small fees that you will have to pay. For seniors and disabled, Medicaid may pay for long-term care.

- You may apply for Medicaid on the day you are released from prison.
- If you were eligible for Medicaid at the time you entered prison, and you were incarcerated for no longer than 12 months, you will be issued a temporary Medicaid card (good for 60 days). You must reapply for Medicaid during those 60 days.
- If you are 65 or older and low income, or if you have qualified before for Social Security Disability or SSI, you will probably qualify immediately for Medicaid.
- This program may help pay medical bills dating back three months from your application date but not further back than your date of release.

You can apply at:

Medicare

Medicare is a health insurance program for people age 65 and older, or disabled people younger than 65, who have worked under the Social Security system or are dependents of someone who has. Medicare provides hospitalization coverage (Part A), supplemental insurance for things like doctor’s visits (Part B), and offers prescription drug coverage (Part D). Medicare Part C (Medicare Advantage Plans) is through private companies that provide Part A and Part B benefits to anyone eligible to enroll, many plans cover prescriptions as well.

• When you go to prison, you do not lose your Medicare Part A (hospital insurance) benefit, so you don’t need to re-enroll.

• You will only lose your Part B (Supplemental Insurance) and Part D (medication) if you stopped paying for it while you were in prison.

• If you stopped paying for Medicare Part B, or Part D, you should re-enroll within 63 days of release. Otherwise, you may be penalized for late enrollment or you may have to wait until the next general enrollment period (January through March) for coverage to start the following year. You may be subject to a higher premium when you re-enroll.

• Medicare offers a subsidy to help pay costs associated with its Part D program. If you qualify based on your income (150% or less of the Federal Poverty Guidelines) and assets, it may pay part of your premium, deductibles, and/or co-payments for services provided under Part D. The amount of help varies depending on income, family size and the person’s resources.

HCAP (Hospital Care Assurance Program) Free Care at Ohio Hospitals

Every hospital in Ohio is required by law to provide basic, medically necessary, hospital-level services (both inpatient and outpatient) free of charge to people whose incomes are at or below the federal poverty level and who are not currently receiving Medicaid (may be on Medicaid spend-down, if you have not reached your spend-down amount for the month of treatment). This program is independent of immigration status, and requires no proof of status.

The hospital is required to notify patients of this program and must help people apply. Ask about this program. HCAP applies only to care by hospital employees in hospital facilities, not to independent corporations or private practices not under the hospital. However, a patient should request an “award letter” stating his or her qualification for HCAP, and show this to non-covered providers, who may choose to reduce their fees. Those with low incomes who do not qualify for HCAP should ask about individual hospitals’ charity care programs.

HOUSING

At least eight months before you are released, you should start thinking about where you will live. Work with your case manager to create a plan. Case managers on the outside at the reentry programs (see page 2 for a list) may also help you find housing. Think about the following options:

Permanent Housing

1. Living with family or friends:
Living with family or friends may be your best option. If you are planning on living with family or friends, make sure you tell your case manager about any criminal history of the people you will be living with. You may not be able to live with certain people. It is better to tell the case manager up front so you can get approval. Otherwise, you may be violating the conditions of your parole/post-release control.

2. Rental Housing:
To find an apartment or house to rent, try the following:

Look in the classifieds section of the major newspapers, or try the free or local papers around the county.

Walk or drive around the neighborhood you want to live in. For Rent signs are often posted on lawns and in windows.

Subsidized rental housing
Some rental housing is called subsidized because it is funded in some way by the government or by other sources. Because of this, you pay rent based on your income or a fixed rent that is generally less than other units on the market.

• Public housing: This is government-owned housing. All public housing may have long waiting lists, two years is not uncommon. However, this varies. Some persons (such as older adults or veterans) may be given priority for certain units and get in faster.

There are income and other eligibility requirements that vary by public housing authority. There are also some specific restrictions affecting ex-offenders, but many ex-offenders may still qualify for public housing. You are generally expected to pay 30 percent of your income for rent.

Here are some rules of all public housing authorities:
Federal law prohibits admitting households that include a member who has ever been convicted of methamphetamine production on the premises of federally-funded housing.
Federal law prohibits admitting households that include a member who is subject to a lifetime registration requirement under a state’s sex offender law.
Ultimately, the housing authority may deny admission to any applicant whose habits and practices may reasonably be expected to have a negative effect on other tenants or on the facility.

• Housing Choice vouchers: Housing Choice vouchers were formerly known as Section 8 vouchers. If you qualify for a voucher, you have to find a private landlord that is willing to lease to you and accept the voucher. You will generally only pay 30% of your income toward rent.

Record of Arrest and Prosecution (RAP Sheet)

Your criminal record may consist of your arrests, convictions and/or other dispositions (such as a dismissal of your case). Here are a few important things to remember:

• You may need to contact several different agencies to get complete information and to make sure all records are correct.

• Know what you want. Do you need only your arrest records, or do you want to see your dispositions (outcome of your case such as a dismissal)? Do you want to see felonies, misdemeanors, or both?

• If you just want to view a detailed record of your felony cases in Columbiana County, try the Clerk of Courts online database. It is free at http://cp.onlinedockets.com/columbianacp/

• If you want to make sure all records are correct, some people recommend starting your search with the city in which you were arrested and working your way up through the county.

Out-of-County Information
If you have committed felonies in other counties in the State of Ohio, contact the police department, sheriff’s department and county clerk of court in that community for information.

You can also get a “background check” on yourself. The Attorney General’s Office for the State of Ohio provides Ohio Civilian Background Checks. You can view all felonies reported to them throughout Ohio. Information on these checks is available in the following section.

There are also private companies that offer background checks. In some cases, these are less expensive than the Ohio Civilian Background Checks. Be sure to check with the Better Business Bureau at 216-241-7678 or www.clevelandbbb.org to get information on these companies before giving them money.
Ohio Civilian Background Checks / State Criminal Repository Records

For a record of your Ohio felonies that have been reported to the State Attorney General’s Office, you can request a civilian background check from the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Identification and Information. To do this, you must go to an agency that has an electronic fingerprint machine. Fees vary by location, but are usually around $30-$60.

To find a location near you, go to the web site listed below. Click on “Services” and then “Background check.” You should call for more information before you go.

Be prepared with the following:
• Photo ID
• Payment (often must be cash or money order)
• Your phone number
• Your mailing address

• Remember, anything you say or do can be used against you.
• Keep your hands where the police can see them.
• Don’t run. Don’t touch any police officer.
• Don’t resist even if you believe you are innocent.
• Don’t complain on the scene or tell the police they’re wrong or that you’re going to file a complaint.
• Do not make any statements regarding the incident.
• In order to preserve your right to remain silent, you must clearly tell the police officer that you are invoking your right to remain silent.
• Ask for a lawyer immediately upon your arrest.
• Remember officers’ badge & patrol car numbers.
• Write down everything you remember ASAP.
• Try to find witnesses and their names and phone numbers.

Birth Certificates

A certified (official) birth certificate is a very important document that you should have. It is often required when applying for a State ID, driver’s license, marriage license, passport, school enrollment, or to access other benefits. A certified birth certificate will generally have a raised, embossed, impressed or multicolored seal. Non-certified copies are not acceptable for legal purposes.

Write or visit the vital statistics office in the state, city or county where you were born. Often these offices will be part of the health department, but not always. The library can help you locate information for the city, county or state you need.

Fees vary, but in Ohio, you can expect to pay around $15-25. If you cannot pay for this, a social service agency may be able to help. If you are already working with an agency, ask them for assistance.

County and local offices usually process requests quicker than the state offices. The fastest way to obtain a birth certificate is in person (same-day). If you request it by mail, it may take 3-8 weeks from the time the request is received. Some offices may allow requests by phone with a credit card.

Services on the Internet such as www.vitalcheck.com can expedite delivery (7-10 business days) and can help you get out-of-state birth certificates, but you must pay by credit card and the cost is higher.

Be prepared with the following information to get your birth certificate:

• Your full name and your gender (sex)
• Your father’s full name (if available)
• Your mother’s maiden name
• Your month, day and year of birth
• Place of birth (city/county/state; name of hospital, if known)
• Telephone number
• Address where it will be sent (if mailed)
• Notarized sworn statement (California only)
• Photocopy of picture I.D. if necessary (not required in Ohio)

Credit Reports

A credit report is a detailed history of how you pay your bills (whether they are on-time or late) and how you manage your debt, loans and credit. In addition, public information such as judgments, bankruptcies and delinquent child support payments are included.

You should review your credit report periodically to make sure everything is accurate. It is not unusual for mistakes to occur, and you want to take care of those so they don’t affect your ability to get a job, rent an apartment, buy a home or get a credit card. Landlords, employers (with your permission) and others with legitimate business purposes can get a copy of your report.

The report may include a “credit score,” which is a number that is used to predict how credit-worthy you are. The higher the score, the better. You may benefit from talking with a credit-counseling agency if you think you need help managing your credit. Here are helpful things to know:

• There are three companies (TransUnion, Equifax and Experian) that maintain credit reports and each company may have different information.

• You can get a FREE copy of your credit report once every 12 months (ONLY through the Annual Credit Report Request Service). You can request all three reports at once so you can compare them, or you can space them out so you can keep track of changes - as long as you don’t request the same report more than once in a 12-month period. However, your free copy does not include your credit score.

• You can also get a free copy of a report that was used to take an “adverse action against you” such as denying you employment, credit or insurance, as long as you request it within 60 days of receiving notice of the action. The notice will give you the name of who to contact to get the free copy.
• If you are unemployed and intend to apply for employment in the next 60 days OR you are on welfare, you can also get a free copy of your credit report.

• If you find something that is wrong on your credit report, contact BOTH the company that produced the credit report and the company that provided the original information (such as a credit card company) to dispute the information.

• Generally, if you dispute something, the credit reporting company must begin to investigate it and make a note in your file or delete the error within 30 days of receiving your original request. They don’t have to FIX the error within 30 days, just note that they are working on it.

• If you think you would benefit from credit or budget counseling, or you need help understanding your options, contact one of the nonprofit money management agencies listed later in this guide.

To get a FREE copy of your credit reports once every 12 months, contact the following. DO NOT call any other advertised service; they are usually trying to get money out of you, even if they say it is free.

DD-214s are official discharge papers. This is proof that you were discharged from military service. If you do not have a certified copy of your DD-214, it is important that you get and keep a copy. You may need a DD-214 to access many services available to veterans.

To get a copy of your DD-214:

Contact the National Archives and Records Administration and ask for form SF-180. You will need to complete the form and send it back by mail or fax. A written request may be sent without the form, but you should phone first to receive more information. You may also initiate your request through the Web site archives.gov. Usually, copies of DD-214s are free.

After you receive your DD-214, it is a good idea to have it recorded at the Columbiana County Recorder’s Office. They will keep a copy on file in their office for you.

Driver’s License / State Identification Card

Driver License Suspensions
If you want to make sure that you have a valid Ohio driver’s license or you want to know what suspensions or blocks you have on your license, call the Ohio Bureau of Motor Vehicles (BMV). They can give you information by phone, you can visit in-person, or you can request that they mail you a summary letter which lists all suspensions and/or blocks and the fines that you owe to remove these.

If you need to have your license reinstated (get your license back) and you are eligible, you can do this by mail (takes 7-10 business days) or in-person. In-person is faster, but call first to make sure you bring the correct documents. If your license was suspended because you did not pay child support, you must pay what the Child Support Enforcement Agency requires before you can get your license reinstated. See page 4 for detailed information.
There is also usually a fee to reinstate your license and that will vary depending on the number and type of offenses. Reinstatement Fees may be paid at the following Deputy Registrar License Agencies in Columbiana County:

Automobile Insurance / Car Insurance
In Ohio, it is illegal to drive any motor vehicle without insurance or other financial responsibility (FR) proof. It is also illegal for any motor vehicle owner to allow anyone else to drive the owner’s vehicle without FR proof.

If you are asked to show proof of insurance or financial responsibility and cannot, you will lose your driver’s license for at least 90 days for the first offense (work privileges are available after 30 days in some cases), and you may face other penalties.

State Identification Card
If you do not have a valid driver’s license, you can apply for a State ID Card. There are two forms of a State ID — temporary and permanent. If you have a suspended driver’s license and you plan on driving again, ask for a temporary ID. If you get a permanent ID, you’ll have to re-take the exam if you want to drive again. An application for a permanent State ID will cancel out your driver’s license. Make sure you know the status of your driver’s license before you apply for a State ID.

If you have a Release Identification Card (see below), you can use this as the only form of ID needed to obtain a State ID. If you do not have that, you must have two documents to obtain a State ID: one that verifies your name and birth date (like a certified birth certificate) and another that proves your Social Security Number (such as a Social Security Card). Acceptable documents are listed on pages 43-46.

The current fee for a State Identification Card is $8.50.

You can walk in to any license agency for service (see page 42).

Prison Records

Release Identification Card
A free, non-replaceable photo ID will be given to you on the day of your release if you have a Social Security number that can be verified by the Social Security Administration. The card will include your birth date and Social Security number. You can show this card to the Ohio Bureau of Motor Vehicles as documentation to get a State ID, temporary permit or driver’s license. However, you still have to pay the cost of getting the license, permit or State ID.

Release Papers
If you do not have to be supervised when you are released - called “straight release,” then you will receive a document called Expiration of Sentence. It is also known as an Expiration of Stated Term. It proves that you are no longer under the supervision of the Ohio Department of Rehabilitation and Correction. Keep this document.

If you have to be supervised, then you will receive a Parole Certificate or a Post Release Control Certificate informing you of who your parole officer is and where you should report.

Certification of Incarceration
If you lose your release papers or you just need to verify your release from prison and/or the dates of your incarceration, the Ohio Department of Rehabilitation and Correction can provide that paperwork. This service is free. Requests generally take 10-14 days to process.

All requests must be in writing and must contain the following:

• First and last name
• Inmate number OR both Social Security number and birth date
• Explanation of what you need
• Return address
• Your signature

Inmate Educational Records
When you complete educational programs while in prison, such as career-technical classes or your GED, a record is kept of what you complete. That record is called a transcript. You can request a transcript free of charge.

All requests must be in writing and must contain the following:

- First and last name
- Inmate number or Social Security number and birthdate
- Name of the institution where you received the training
- Year you received the training (if remembered)
- Explanation of what you need

Fax: 614-877-0704

A word about your GED:
Although completion of your GED is noted on your inmate educational transcript, some employers or schools may want a copy of your GED transcript from the Ohio Dept. of Education. That transcript is free if you note on the top of the form that you were incarcerated when you received your GED and you note which institution. You can get a free copy only once, after that there is a fee. To receive a free copy, you must order by mail rather than on the Web site.

Call and request that they mail a form or print the request from the Web site. You cannot fax requests. Once you submit your request by mail, it takes up to two weeks to process.

Inmate Medical / Mental Health Records

When you are provided with health or mental health care while in prison, these services are noted on paper. That is your medical record.

Only a licensed doctor or a lawyer can request your medical record, and only with your permission. You cannot request your own medical record. The Social Security Administration and the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs may also request a copy of your record because they have licensed doctors on staff.

A copy of the record is free and it will come in the form of a CD. You are only allowed ONE request per patient/client in a 12-month period. Requests generally take 10-14 days to process.

All requests must be in writing on official letterhead and must include the following:

Recovery Services - Records

If you participated in an alcohol and/or other drug recovery program while in prison, and you need a record of this, you may contact the Ohio Department of Rehabilitation and Corrections. The procedure to request your records is the same as requesting a Certification of Incarceration (see page 47).

Selective Service Registration

The Selective Service System is the agency of the United States Government that exists to register men who could be asked to help the Military in a time of war or other national crisis. Almost all male U.S. citizens, and male aliens living in the U.S., who are age 18 through 25, are required to register. Eligible people are automatically registered when issued a driver’s license or State ID. Registration forms are also available at post offices or online. Registration is free.

When someone reaches age 26, they can no longer register. If they were born on or after January 1, 1960 and did not register before they turned 26, they may be ineligible for certain Federal benefits, including U.S. citizenship, job training programs and student financial aid. However, they can still get a driver’s license or State ID in the State of Ohio.
It is important to know that someone who fails to register cannot be denied any benefit if he can “show by a preponderance of evidence” that his failure to register was not knowing and willful. The final decision regarding eligibility for programs is made by the agency granting the benefit, not the Selective Service. Some agencies may have an appeals process.

Agencies may ask you to provide an official response from the Selective Service regarding the fact that you did not register before age 26. In that case, it is possible to request a “status information” letter. You will have to describe what stopped you from registering and provide documents showing periods that you were incarcerated, hospitalized, etc., between your 18th and 26th birthdays. Processing time for this document may take up to 90 days.

Social Security Number / Card

A Social Security number is important because you need it to get a job, open a bank account, get credit, collect certain benefits and receive some other government services.

If you have never applied for a Social Security number before and you are age 12 or older, you must apply in person at a branch office. If you have a Social Security number, and you just need a replacement card, you can do this by mail or in person.

This service is free, but you will need certain ORIGINAL documents (or copies “certified by the custodian of record”). The documents you will need depend on your status and what you are requesting. Call or visit the Web site before you apply so that you know exactly what documents you need. A copy of the application is available on the Social Security Web site.

It may take anywhere from 10 days to several months to process your application depending on your status. A U.S. Citizen from Ohio can usually expect the process to take 4-5 weeks.

Expungement of Adult Criminal Records

Expungement is the sealing of a criminal record (convictions, acquittals, dismissals, etc.). If your record is expunged, you don’t have to tell people that you have been convicted, arrested, or charged when you apply for most jobs or housing. However, your expunged convictions can still be seen by certain employers and law enforcement agencies and your fingerprints will not be sealed. The expungement process can take 6-8 months. It is up to a judge whether to grant your request.

Eligibility For Expungement of Convictions

- Expungement of convictions is only for first time offenders with no charges pending and no arrest warrants. If two or more convictions are connected with the same act, they may count as one conviction. Three offenses that occurred within a 90-day period and were tried at the same time may count as one conviction.

- People who have committed certain crimes are not eligible for expungement. Those crimes include, but are not limited to, sexual crimes, first or second degree felonies, crimes committed while armed, felonies involving a minor, convictions with a mandatory prison term, motor vehicle crimes (including DUIs), and crimes of violence except for a simple misdemeanor assault.

- For felony convictions, you must wait at least three years from the time you are off probation, parole or straight release and after all court costs and any fines, restitution or community service have been paid or completed. However, if all you have left to pay are court costs (you’ve paid your restitution and fines), you might qualify for expungement.

- For misdemeanor convictions, you must wait at least one year from the time you were convicted and after all court costs and any fines, restitution or community service have been paid or completed. However, if all you have left to pay are court costs (you’ve paid your restitution and fines), you might qualify for expungement.

Eligibility For Sealing Records Other Than Convictions

- You do not have to be a first time offender to get a dismissal, finding of not guilty (acquittal) or nolle sealed from your record. There is no waiting period. You can apply right away. However, if you have more than one conviction, the court may not seal the record.

- If you were indicted and the Grand Jury returned a no bill, you must wait two years to file. You do not have to be a first-time offender to file.

- If you successfully completed a Diversion Completion or Treatment in Lieu of Incarceration program, there is no waiting period. You can apply right away.

- If you were arrested and released (no court was involved), you do not need to file for expungement or record sealing with the court. You can write a letter to the chief of police or head of the law enforcement agency that arrested you and request that he or she remove or seal your arrest record. You do not have to be a first-time offender to request this. However, whether your request is approved is up to the discretion of the chief.
Getting Help With Expungement

You file your motion for expungement in the court where you were charged. For example, if you were charged with a felony in Columbiana County, your expungement paperwork would be filed with the Columbiana County Clerk of Courts.

It is recommended that you file for expungement with the help of an attorney. If you cannot afford one, you may be able to get help from the following organizations.

Remember to ask them about filing a “Poverty Affidavit” form. This form requests that the court waive the filing fee, which is usually $50-$100.

Make sure you keep a copy of all paperwork that you complete.

Helps with expungement of misdemeanor convictions for those with incomes at or below 125% of the Federal Poverty Guidelines. Currently (2011), this is approximately $13,000 a year for a family of one and $28,000 a year for a family of four. However, they will consider people with incomes up to 200% of the Federal Poverty Guidelines. Will not help expunge a felony conviction.

Expungement and Sealing of Juvenile Records

You file for expungement or sealing in the court where your case was handled. In Columbiana County, this would be the Columbiana County Juvenile Court. Expungement means that your record is destroyed and it is like you never had one. Sealing means that your record is “hidden” and that most people/organizations cannot see your record, but there are some exceptions.

• If your case was dismissed, or you were found not delinquent, you would apply to have your record expunged.

• If you were found to be delinquent, unruly or a juvenile traffic offender, you would apply to have your record sealed. You have to wait at least two years from the termination of the court order or your unconditional discharge from the Ohio Department of Youth Services in order to apply. There is a fee.

• After your record has been sealed, it will automatically be expunged after a five year period or upon your 23rd birthday (whichever comes first). However, you can apply to have your record expunged at any time after it is sealed. If you are already 23 when your record is approved to be sealed, it will automatically be expunged.

• You cannot seal records for the following crimes: rape, gross sexual imposition, sexual battery, aggravated murder, and murder.

• It is recommended that you seek assistance from an attorney.

Waiving Court Costs, Fines and Supervision Fee

During your sentencing, you have the right to ask a judge to remove the court costs, discretionary fines and the supervision fee that resulted from your criminal case. You can’t request this waiver once you have been sentenced. This process is for those who are poor and cannot afford to pay these costs. The judge has the right to say yes or no, and may request that you do community service (volunteer) to pay off these fines and costs. You cannot request a waiver of the restitution fees you had to pay your victim or for any mandatory fines.

Executive Clemency

Executive Clemency is granted by the Governor of Ohio. Applications for clemency are processed through the Ohio Parole Board. Requests for clemency generally take six to eight months to process. There are three types of Executive Clemency:
• A pardon grants forgiveness of guilt. A pardon does not erase or seal your conviction. If granted, you will get a certificate from the Governor. This certificate may be helpful in getting a job or in other areas. It also reinstates your civil rights and privileges. A pardon is generally requested by those who have served their time, are no longer under supervision and are now living crime-free. However, anyone may apply.

• A commutation is the reduction of a penalty to one less severe. Commutations are generally requested by inmates serving extremely long minimum or definite sentences.

• A reprieve is the temporary postponement of the execution of a sentence. This is rarely used except for inmates sentenced to death.

All requests for an application for clemency must be made in writing (email, fax or mail). Submit your name and address along with your request. It will generally take 7-10 days to process/send you an application.

Help for Non-U.S. Citizens Upon Release

If you are not a U.S. citizen, and you have been convicted of certain felonies (including but not limited to murder, manslaughter, rape, drug trafficking, certain firearms offenses, and certain crimes related to national security) there is a chance that you will be deported after you have completed serving your sentence.

No matter what your criminal offense was, it is extremely important that you hire a lawyer who can represent you well in the matter of your immigration status. You should do this before your release if possible, but definitely as soon as you can.

MAILING ADDRESS / PHONE

Mailing Address

The address where you have your mail sent to is called your mailing address. Most people use the address where they live as their mailing address. If you do not have a permanent address or think you may be moving a lot, you should establish one place to pick up your mail. A few options are listed below:

• Check with the shelter, halfway house, transitional housing or other residential facility where you are living to see if they will allow for your mail to be sent there.

• Check with social service agencies where you are a client. They may allow you to have your mail sent there and they will keep it for you until you can pick it up. Be sure to make arrangements with the agency before having your mail sent there.

• A post office box (P.O.Box) is a locked box located on the wall in the post office where your mail will be delivered. A key or combination to open the box will be given to you. Only you will have this. You will have to go to the post office where your box is located to pick up your mail. Some items such as packages may not be sent to a post office box. There is a monthly fee for a post office box. The smallest box will cost around $22-$30 for six months.

• To apply for a post office box, you will have to walk into the post office branch where you would like your mail sent. Before going in, it is best to phone first to find out if boxes are available at that location.

MENTAL HEALTH / COUNSELING

Mental health deals with how your brain functions and with your emotions and feelings. It deals with how you interact with others, how you react to change or stress, and your self-esteem.

People who need help from mental health professionals may feel depressed, angry or not able to cope with parts of their lives. Or, they may simply need to talk to someone about a life problem.

If you are diagnosed with a mental health issue while in prison, you will meet with a Community Linkage Social Worker before you are released. This social worker will make an appointment for you at a mental health agency in the community. If you are taking medication, the institution you are leaving will provide you with a two-week supply upon release.

If you have not been diagnosed in prison, and you are reading this after your release, the following may help:

• If you have a doctor, talk to him or her about a referral to a mental health professional.

• If you have health insurance, call the company. Some or all of your treatment, including prescriptions, may be paid through your insurance. If you are on Medicaid or Medicare, make sure you understand what is covered. Go to a professional that accepts Medicaid or Medicare. If you do not have Medicaid or Medicare, you may want to apply.

• If you are having trouble dealing with anger, personal issues, stress, depression, trauma, sexual abuse, or other mental health issues that are getting in the way of work, relationships, or daily activities, you should seek help.

If you have a history of managing your money well, you may have a better chance of getting a job, a car, a house and other things. Managing your money means paying your bills on time, sticking to a budget, building good credit and staying out of debt. A list of organizations that can help you manage your money appears at the end of this section.

Checking and Savings Accounts

Your first step when you have an income is to open up a checking account. This is a bank or credit union account that allows you to write checks and/or use a debit card so you can pay your bills easier. It also helps protect your money from being lost or stolen.

- Open an account with a bank or credit union close to your work or home.

- Aim for a free checking account that has no minimum balance (the amount of money you have to keep in the account to get the service), low initial deposit and no monthly fees.

- Some banks have “second chance” programs for people who have been turned down for checking accounts before and are listed in Chex Systems (for writing bad checks, having lots of overdrafts, etc.) There may be a minimum amount you need to deposit and other restrictions, but this may be a very good way to get a checking account.

- Some nonprofit organizations may help you open an account or help you save. See pages 63-64 for a list of organizations.

To open an account, just walk into the bank. You will generally have to provide:

- Your first and last name and address

- Social Security number

- Driver’s license or State ID

- If your driver’s license or State ID was issued in the last 60 days, you may need verification of address such as pay check stub, recent utility bill or other official correspondence (SSI, unemployment, etc.) with your name and current address.

Budgeting

As soon as you have income coming in, you should create a budget to help you pay your bills. A budget lists all of your expenses and how much you can spend on each item such as rent and food.

Try to go easy on your expenses until you can establish that you have enough money to pay for everything. Don’t buy new cars or expensive clothes, don’t spend a lot of money going out to eat, don’t buy extras like cable/DISH and watch your phone expenses until you know you can afford it.
Pay your bills before you spend money on things like clothes and entertainment.

- Make a list of all the bills you have to pay and the dates they are due.

- If you are paying your bills by mail, mail them at least one week before the due date.

- Don’t pay attention to “grace periods.” Just make it a habit to pay your bills at least a week before the due date.

- Make paying credit cards or bank loans (including car loans) a high priority. Nonpayment can affect your credit.

- Paying your rent or mortgage should also be a priority.

- Stay up to date on your insurance.

- Stay current on your utilities. Many agencies listed in this guide, including The Salvation Army, may be able to assist in keeping your utilities current.

- Work with an agency that will help you budget.

Debt

If you are having trouble paying your bills, there are agencies that can help you set up a budget and work with your creditors to arrange payment plans. There are even agencies that can help with a gambling problem if that is what is causing the debt.

Credit

When you buy things using “credit,” a company gives you a loan that you are promising to pay back a little at a time. You are borrowing someone else’s money. When you get a loan to buy a car, you are using credit. When you buy something at a department store using a credit card, you are also using credit.

It is important for you to build a good “credit history” if you ever want to get a home loan, auto loan or get good interest rates on your credit cards. A credit history is simply a record of how you use credit.

There are people who have a bad credit history because they do not pay their bills on time, and there are people who have no credit history because they never had any loans or credit cards.

If you have never had any credit, it is very important to start building your credit history. Without a credit history, it may be hard to get a car, a job, rent, or start phone service and other services. You may be turned down or you may be asked to pay a high interest rate. The interest rate is the amount you are being charged to borrow that money.
Tips on Building a Credit History:
• Before you apply for credit, make sure you have steady, verifiable income.

• Try to stay at one job and live at one address for as long as you can.

• Before you apply for any credit card, make sure that the lender reports to a credit bureau. If not, you will not be building your credit history!

• Get a card with NO ANNUAL FEE if possible.

• Watch out for high interest rates. Shop around for the best rates before you decide to apply. READ THE FINE PRINT.

• If you think you cannot get a credit card on your own, think about getting a co-signer – someone who will be responsible for paying off the card if you don’t.

• Open a bank account. This makes you look better to a lender.

• Only apply for the credit cards whose requirements you think you meet—there are usually minimum income requirements. Getting turned down a lot looks bad.

• Don’t apply for a bunch of credit cards at once or obtain more credit cards than you truly need.

• Secured credit cards are a last resort, but are an option. These cards require you to pay a deposit to get the card – the deposit could be a few hundred dollars. If you don’t make your payments, you may lose your deposit AND still have to pay your balance. These cards often have fees and higher interest rates. Try to find the lowest fee you can. After a few months of making payments on time on the secured credit card, you may be able to get a regular credit card.

Maintaining Good Credit:
• To avoid paying a lot of interest, it is best to pay off the balance in full and on time every month.

• At the very least, you must pay the minimum payment in full and on time every month.

• Don’t pay attention to “grace periods.” Just make it a habit to pay your bill at least a week before the due date.

Income Taxes

The money you make, such as your inmate income or money you earn on a job, may need to be reported to the government. There are federal, state and local government taxing agencies. At the end of each year, you may be required to “file” a tax return with each agency. It is the law that employers and others mail out the documents that you will need for your tax returns by January 31st of each year. The W2 form is the most common one of these forms.

You may not be required to file certain tax returns if your income is very low or in some other situations. However, you may want to file just to see if you can get money back – a tax refund.

There are free programs to help you file if you make less than $60,000 per year (2011 tax year). These programs will do your taxes for you. They will not force you to file. Many sites offer both paper filing and free electronic filing (E-File) which allows you to receive your refund fast — in as little as 7-14 days. If you have a checking or savings account, you can have your return deposited directly. To locate a free tax preparation site in your area, dial 211 or contact the Ohio Benefit Bank at www.ohiobenefits.org

Watch out for places that offer you an immediate refund. These refunds are actually loans called Refund Anticipation Loans (RALs). They could keep as much as half of your refund as a fee. And, if your refund is less than they thought, you could owe them money. Remember, there are free tax preparation sites available to you.

PAROLE / POST RELEASE CONTROL

If you did not come out of prison on “straight release,” then you were probably told you had to report to a parole officer. You would have received a Parole or Post Release Control Certificate informing you of who your parole officer is and where you should report.

Within the Cleveland region, the following agency is responsible for investigation and supervision services. They are responsible for people on parole — which means release from prison before your sentence expires, and those on post release control — which means supervision after your sentence is over. Post release control can only be mandated for crimes committed after July 1, 1996.

You are responsible for reporting to your parole officer according to the conditions of your supervision. This includes letting your parole officer know of a change in employment or where you live. If you want to move out of Columbiana County, you will have to discuss the transfer request with your parole officer before you move. The county that you want to move to has to approve the transfer.

TRANSPORTATION

Contact a friend, family member, or other person you know to pick you up from the institution when you are released. If you have no one to pick you up, the institution will take you to the nearest bus station.

From there, if you don't have someone to pick you up, you will have to buy your own bus ticket to wherever you need to go. If you have no money, the institution will buy a ticket for you, but this has to be arranged BEFORE you leave the prison.

Formerly incarcerated people are allowed to vote in the State of Ohio even if they have a felony conviction, as long as they meet all other general eligibility requirements for voting (U.S. citizen, age 18 or older on the day of the election, meet residency requirements, etc.)

People who have never voted before need to register before they can vote. Those who were incarcerated due to a felony conviction need to re-register to vote, even if they have registered before. Also, people who have not voted in recent elections and/or have moved should check with the Board of Elections to see if they need to re-register.

Be prepared to have the last four digits of your Social Security number or your driver’s license number handy when you register (this will prevent you from having to send in additional paperwork), as well as your permanent address. You will need to register at least 30 days before the election. Registration is free.

Voter registration forms are available at libraries, Bureau of Motor Vehicle offices, County Boards of Elections and other locations.

Ohio Works First is the name of the program that offers time-limited financial assistance and employment services to Columbiana County families while a person is working towards self-sufficiency. Families must contain at least one minor child. A minor child is an individual who has not attained the age of 18 or an individual who has not attained age 19 and is a full time student in secondary or vocational school. OWF is also eligible to a pregnant individual in her 3rd trimester of pregnancy.

If you qualify, your grant amount will either be put directly into your bank account or on to an Ohio Eppicard. The amount will be based on the number of people in your family and your family's income. It is important to note that OWF cash benefits are limited to thirty-six (36) months. This is just three years of cash assistance. Once this time period is exhausted, a person is no longer eligible for OWF cash for two years. After two years off cash assistance, a family can reapply giving "Good Cause" as to why they should be granted an additional 24 months of cash assistance. After this, a person has used their 5 years (60 months) of cash assistance and can never receive this benefit again. There are certain circumstances where you may be able to receive additional cash assistance once your time limit has been exhausted. You should have a discussion with a caseworker.

As a condition of receiving your cash benefits, you will be asked to sign a self-sufficiency contract. You will complete a Jobs Assessment Interview with an Employment Service Counselor who will evaluate your employment history and assist you in getting job training or making an assignment for you to attended Job Search activities within the agency. The agreement you sign is your commitment to complete thirty (30) hours of a work activity each week until you become self-sufficient and you no longer need OWF cash assistance. LCDJFS work activities include working on a job, looking for a job, being enrolled in a job training program, going to college or a vocational school to obtain a certification, obtaining your GED, taking ESOL classes for those whose primary language is one other than English, and many more. We will connect you to a wide variety of programs to help you find a job, improve your skills and improve your employability.

Remember, participating in our jobs activities is a requirement of receiving OWF cash assistance. Signing the self-sufficiency contract is a requirement of receiving OWF cash assistance. If you fail to participate and complete the mandatory weekly hours of a work activity required by the State of Ohio, your OWF checks will be stopped and sanctions applied to your case rendering you ineligible for various periods of time.

Participants of the OWF Jobs Programs earn monthly participant allowances of up to $50 which should be used for transportation cost and incidentals relating to your assigned activity. People also may qualify for bus tickets to their assignments and child care while at their assignments.

Supplemental Security Income (SSI) and Social Security Disability (SSD)

• SSD pays benefits to disabled workers and their families. To be eligible, you must be disabled and must have earned a minimum number of credits from work covered under Social Security. The required number of credits varies depending on your age at the time you become disabled.

• To qualify as disabled, you must be unable to do any kind of substantial, gainful work “due to a physical or mental disability that is expected to last at least 12 months or result in death.”

• You are not eligible to receive SSI benefits for any full calendar month you are in prison.

• Social Security has a pre-release procedure you may use to apply for SSI benefits while still in prison. It is not available at all facilities. Check with your case manager at the prison.

• It may take a while to get your benefits. It could take six months or longer.

• Working “under the table” does not count towards your work requirement for Social Security. You might want to keep this in mind when you are looking for jobs.

• You can receive this financial assistance in addition to unemployment compensation (although it may affect your unemployment benefits).

• You should apply at least 3 months before you want benefits to begin.

• If you choose to receive benefits before age 65, you will not be eligible for Medicare (health insurance) until you turn 65 or unless you qualify based on disability or certain health conditions.

Unemployment Compensation

Unemployment Compensation provides financial assistance for those who have been laid off and who are currently unemployed through no fault of their own. To qualify, applicants must have worked at least 20 weeks and earned an average of at least $213 a week during the past year.

• Eligible workers receive up to 26 weeks of basic benefits - but those laid-off as the result of foreign competition can receive extended benefits known as Trade Readjustment Allowance (TRA). Sometimes benefits are extended by the government if the unemployment rate is high.

• Apply for Unemployment Compensation immediately after losing your job. This may help you receive the maximum benefit amount and it may be several weeks until you receive your first check.

• If you are denied benefits, you have the right to appeal.

• You may work and collect unemployment at the same time. However, working may reduce your payment.
